India Basin Waterfront Park

ibwaterfrontparks.com

The India Basin Shoreline Park is a partnership between the Bayview Hunters Point community, the Trust for Public Land, and the San Francisco Parks Alliance and RPD to build a 10-acre waterfront park in the historically underserved Southeast San Francisco neighborhood. San Francisco's newest waterfront park will deliver miles of winding shoreline trails, acres of restored tidal landscape and an abundance of recreation opportunities to the Bayview's front porch. In an historic moment for environmental justice, the India Basin Project will transform a dilapidated relic of the industrial shipwrights' era into a 21st-century park with an emphasis on public access, social equity, resiliency, and restoration.

Important information about giving through your donor advised fund: Current SFF policy allows donor advised funds to give only to organizations designated by the IRS as having 501(c)(3) public charity status. Many charities working on democracy issues have a partner 501(c)(4) public welfare organization. A 501(c)(4) can do extensive lobbying and some directly partisan work. If you desire to give to a 501(c)(4) organization, you can do so with personal funds. Organizations included in this give guide that have a known 501(c)(4) arm are marked with an asterisk, and the associated 501(c)(4) is noted.
